Maybe roses never die

George Kooymans – Frank Carillo

Intro:

```
     Em                                  Cmaj                                                  Riff
E:-------------------------------------------------        ------------
B:-------------------------------------------------        ------------
G:-2-vib---pull-0-------0---2->--vib-4--<--vib-2----        ------------
D:-2--------------------2---------------------------        ------------
A:-2--------------------3---------------------------        ------------
E:-0-------------------------------------------------        --3--2--0---
```

Verse

```
Riff Em              A    G          D
      She was seen Sunday morning
      Bm          A             C       A
        Drinking coffee in a small cafe
Riff   Em        A      G               D
        she got lucky     he stopped calling
      Bm        A             C            A
        maybe this time she'd get away
```

Interlude

Intro Riff

Verse

```
Em          A           G          D
     Every car every stranger
Bm         A                     C       A
    every telephone and every ring
Em          A        G        D
     nervous tapping on the table
Bm            A                    C       A
    a 1000 spiders crawling on her skin
```

Bridge

```
A/A             A/G          A/F#          A/E
     His face is always a deadman's stare
A/A          A/G                     A/F#     A/E     A
   Now she thinks she sees him everywhere
```

Refrein

```
G                          C
   Maybe roses never die
G                             Em       Bm
  Maybe they just have a place to go
Am                                        D
  Where nothing ever bleeds them dry
```

```
D     D/C      D/B      D/A        Em   Em                    = D-riff
----------------------------------
---3-----3------3------3------0---
--2-----2------0------2-------0---
-0----------------------------2---
-------3------2------0--------2---
------------------------------0---
```

Maybe roses never die

George Kooymans – Frank Carillo

verse

```
Em              A      G           D
    Rows of houses    on the shoreline
Bm           A                          C       A
    No one knows the secret hide-away
Em               A    G                 D
    Turn the key,    twist the doorknob
Bm         A                            C         A
    There´s someone with a dead bouquet
```

Bridge

```
A/A             A/G          A/F#          A/E
     No one hears a sound and no one tells
A/A          A/G                      A/F#     A/E     A
   The picture tells the story very well
```

Refrein 2

```
G                          C
   Maybe roses never die
G                             Em       Bm
  Maybe they just have a place to go
Am                                        D
  Where nothing ever bleeds them dry
```

D – Riff

Solo over:

```
F     F     G     G
Dm    Dm    F     G
```

Refrein 3

```
C                          F
   Maybe roses never die
C                                      Am       Em
  Maybe there´s some kind of place to go
Dm                                        G     G     Am
  Where nothing ever bleeds them dry

C                          F
   Maybe roses never die
C                                      Am       Em
  Maybe there´s some kind of place to go
Dm                                        G     G     Am    Am    Em
  Where nothing ever bleeds them dry
```

Outro: 4x

```
     Em                        Cmaj                          ( end )
E:-----------------------------------------------      -----------------
B:-----------------------------------------------      -----------------
G:-2-vib---pull-0---0---2->--vib-4--<--vib-2----      --0--→2--→4-----
D:-2----------------2---------------------------      --2--------------
A:-2----------------3---------------------------      --3--------------
E:-0-----------------------------------------------      -----------------
```